DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because elements 19, 29 and 102 are discussed in the specification, but are not shown in the drawings. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because on the last line, "cpmforter" is misspelled. The Applicant should note that the Examiner has corrected this by changing "cpmforter" to --comforter--.

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 1, second to the last line, "5,214,060" is incorrect. The Examiner has changed this to --5,213,060--. However, the following informalities need to be corrected by the Applicant: on page 7, the Applicant has two different reference names for only one reference numeral, i.e. 31 and 40. Appropriate correction is needed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, line 10, the phrase "pivotal now" is unclear as to its meaning and appropriate correction is needed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Loeser '372.

Loeser teaches an apparatus for assisting animals in ascending elevated areas which is structurally similar to the Applicant's claimed invention. The Applicant claims a ramp apparatus having an intended use "for permitting a pet to climb upon or down from the surface of a bed". The reference to Loeser includes a ramp member 114A and 114B of sufficient length to extend from a point near the surface of a bed down to the floor, as clearly shown in Figure 3. The ramp member 114 having at its upper end an apparatus 114A or plate member for securing said ramp between the mattress and box spring. The plate member 114B is further provided with a pivot 113 for connection to ramp member 114B. Regarding claim 2, Loeser further teaches the benefits of providing the ramp with a material 116 for facilitating traction and stability of a pet moving up or down said ramp. In the Brief Summary, Loeser discusses the ramp member having a carpet surface which is considered to be roughened surface made of a plastic material.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Loeser '372 in view of Duane '484.

Loeser does not discuss the use of adjustable legs. Duane teaches a collapsible, portable pet rest attachable to a bed having platform portion support adjacent a bed. The platform portion is supported by a plurality of adjustable legs. Regarding claim 5, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the platform portion 114A of Loeser with a plurality of adjustable legs, in view of the teachings of Duane, in order to provide support during use by an animal. As for claims 6 and 7, the combination of Loeser as modified by Duane teaches a roughened ramp surface having sufficient traction.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 8 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 9-16 is allowable over the prior art of record.
